

Students desiring more education in the occupational and environmental aspects of hazardous material may apply for this Program that builds on Comprehensive practice. Additional requirements include course work in biomonitoring and risk assessment, completion of a 40-hour program for hazardous waste site workers (see 29CRF1910.120), and the thesis topic must be relevant to hazardous materials.